"The Little Tycoon" at the Academy Last Night.

There is an indescribable something about Willard Spencer's "Little Tycoon" that always pleases, and last night's performance at the Academy was no exception.

The large audience listened with interest to all the bright, spicy music, and gazed at the rich Japanese costumes and the beautiful stage-settings with wonder and amazement.

Last season an excellent company gave the "Tycoon," but this year's is a better company, and additional interest attaches to the production in the presence of Mr. Willard Spencer, the originator of every line and note of the popular opera, who in person manages the troupe. Then the scenery, the panorama of New York harbor and the rich setting of the masquerading scene—are perfect, the novelty of the one and the richness of the other being especially noticeable.

Miss Millard as Violet was captivating, her singing and acting of the part being far and away the best yet seen here. So was the Dolly of Miss Lucette.

Miss — as Miss Hurricane, the "fair, fat and forty" character of the tender schoolgirl, was quite clever, whilst Mr. Aldrich Libby as "Alvin Barry" displayed a good tenor voice and ease of acting.

In the principal role of Gen. Knickerbocker Mr. J. H. Ryley was "immense," and in his topical song, "Now That's What I Think, Don't You?" was forced to respond to many encores.

The rest of the cast were all good, not omitting the eccentric Tidy of Mr. Joseph Mealy and the rich voice of Mr. J. Aldrich Libby.

And now a word for the chorus and orchestra. The former is beautifully drilled, sings with much vim, and goes through the frequent and old manuals with plenty of grace and spirit.

The latter, under the able direction of Mr. Charles E. Borgman, consisted of fifteen pieces, and was most efficient.

Letter From Arkansas.

Dear Roundabout:—If you will allow me the space I will verify my promise made you some time ago, and at the same time answer many questions of inquiry that have been propounded to me recently by several private correspondents. We are in the southern terminus of the Ozark mountains, immediately upon the Arkansas river. The river, hills, mountains, valleys and level tracts of local prairie are so inter-associated that at an elevation a few hundred feet above the town and from the top of one of our local mountains, an observer can get a view that beggars description in point of beautiful scenery. This country is full of honest, social and industrious people; cotton is the staple product, and it is rejoicing to the eye and ear to hear and see the farmers, some picking cotton, some ginning and some astride of the large bale, and with the old time Kentucky ox whip in hand, driving great loads of cotton each to his town, with the native Arkansas oxen. An average of about fifty bales per day have been coming into town, some to be ginned and some to be shipped. Corn does well here; it is now selling at 65cts. per bushel and often 75cts. at private sale. This country is thickly wooded with post oak, some pine and other timber.

Schools are abundant, and all well patronized. Every school district has a number one school house, provided with maps, charts, globes, chalk, blackboards, bells and unbridged dictionary. Teachers well paid by the month. Besides the public schools, most every village has an elegant private school, or seminary or college. Here in Ozark we have the Franklin Female Seminary. This is a fine school, has a full corps of teachers for all the departments; Mrs. Lea has charge of the departments of music and German.

The whole people here look at the Seminary as the pride of this country.

My humble servant will begin teaching in the public school the first of December. We have been living in this State five weeks, and we have come in contact with so much hospitality that I seem a native. I cannot close this letter without mentioning the fact that this State is proudly blessed with Josiah H. Shinn as State Superintendent of Public Instruction. A better and more energetic man never directed the helm of education for Arkansas. I must not forget to mention my boy, who is now fourteen months old, and is able to scamper about everywhere. He is strong and healthy so far, and we thank God for having given us such a little boy. The flora indigenous to Arkansas is now sweetly scenting most every yard and lawn with an aroma that haunts the passerby and fills his souls with natural interrogations. We are now enjoying fresh new potatoes of the second crop for dinner, and of course seasoned them with regular butter produced by cotton seed through the cow. It has rained a great deal here the past autumn, but we have now delightful warm and sunny weather. I am glad to notice the improvements in Frankfort and in Central Kentucky. I am always glad to welcome the ROUNDABOUT to my home. Will cheerfully notice any private letter from relatives or friends with an eye always upon the happiness and prosperity of my former home and associates.

I am yours very truly,
J. B. LEA.

A Fortunate Woman.

Mrs. Mary L. Baker, of Ovid, Mich., has reason to be very thankful. She was a great sufferer from heart disease for years. Was short of breath, had hungry spells, pain in side, fluttering, faintness, etc. After taking two bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, she says, "I am better than for 20 years. My mind and eyesight have improved wonderfully. I advise all persons thus afflicted to use this great remedy." J. W. Gayle, druggist, recommends and guarantees it.

Dr. Miles' work on Heart Disease, containing marvelous testimonials, free.

From St. Joseph Hospital.

A young girl here had been suffering for 12 years with Blood Diseases until she had lost the use of her limbs, and was subject to many troubles incident to the disease. The physicians declared that her life would come to a speedy end. After taking S. S. S. she recuperated so fast that it was plain that she had obtained a new lease on life, and she continued to grow better until her permanent cure is assured. Many others patients in our hospital have obtained signal benefit from S. S. S., and it has become quite a favorite in our house.

THE ST. JOSEPH HOSPITAL, Highland, Ill.

Cured Herself and Her Child.

S. S. S. has relieved me of a terrible Scrofula, from which I had suffered for years. It affected my nose first as catarrh, then carried off the bone, and continued to eat until it destroyed the soft bone in the right side of the nose, when it went to my throat, and later on to my lungs, and it looked as if I was doomed. S. S. S. has cured me, and also cured my little daughter of the same disease.

A DUTY TO YOURSELF.

It is surprising that people will use a common, ordinary pill when they can secure a valuable English one for the same money. Dr. Ackner's English pills are a prescription for sick headache and all liver troubles. They are small, sweet, easily taken, and do not gripe.

CURED AFTER SIX YEARS.

MANKATO, MINN., Sept. 30th, '97.

To whom it may concern:—I hereby certify that I have tried many great physicians ("by reputation") in the large cities in the west, and for six years I sought for one skillful enough to cure my daughter of a nervous disease, but without success. I was at last induced to try Rev. E. KÖNIG, of Fort Wayne, Ind., who was reported as being very successful in treating diseases of this character, and I am pleased to say that his skillful treatment my daughter was in a short time completely cured, and he refused to accept any compensation for his services. I cheerfully recommend him to any parties needing his services. My daughter and myself will ever hold the revered gentleman in grateful remembrance.

FRANKFORT, NOVEMBER 29, 1896.

Death of Mrs. Chinn.

Mrs. Lizzie Hunt Chinn, wife of Frank Chinn, Esq., died at her home in South Frankfort Tuesday, about one o'clock, after a protracted illness from heart disease. She was a most excellent Christian lady, greatly beloved by a large circle of friends and relatives, and will be a great loss to her family, her church and the community. Her long illness was borne with christian fortitude and she contemplated her approaching death with the utmost calmness, expressing herself as perfectly resigned to the Master's will, and at last gently and sweetly fell asleep in the arms of the Savior. She was the oldest daughter of the late Major Hunt, of Greenville, Mississippi, and her dying hours were soothed by the tender care of her aged mother, who was summoned to her bedside from her home in the South several weeks ago.

It is a singular fact that her death occurred upon the fifteenth anniversary of her marriage and at about the same hour of the day at which the wedding ceremony was performed. She leaves a husband and four little daughters to mourn her death, who have the warmest sympathy of the entire community in their great affliction. The funeral took place Thursday from the family residence, and the large attendance at the same attested the high estimation in which she was held by the community at large.

Died Suddenly.

Mr. Elieha Merchant, a well known citizen of the South Side, died suddenly at his home on Shelby street Monday night. He was a painter and worked all day Monday at his trade; but at 11 o'clock that night was attacked with congestion of the lungs, which caused his death in about an hour. He was 53 years of age, and during the war he was a soldier in the 9th Kentucky U. S. Cavalry. His funeral took place Wednesday afternoon from his late residence.

He leaves a widow and seven children, most of them grown, to mourn his loss.

An Ugly Blow.

Mr. Alex. C. Henry and a man by the name of Abbott had some words on Broadway Monday afternoon, which resulted in Abbott striking Mr. Henry in the face, cutting his cheek in a fearful manner. It is thought Abbott used a brass knuck or some hard substance, as the wound had the appearance of having been made with a blunt instrument. He disappeared immediately after the difficulty, and has since avoided arrest.

Shoe Factory Gone.

Messrs. Mason & Foard Co. shipped the machinery of the Frankfort Shoe Manufactory to Eddyville the first of the week, where it will be set up and operated in the Branch Penitentiary.

Will Marry Next Month.

Mr. M. R. Hainline, of Mt. Sterling, and Miss Eddie M. Ledridge, of this city, will be married on the 3d of December, at the residence of the bride's parents on East Cross street.

Baptist Bazaar.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will give a bazaar in the chapel, for the benefit of the Church, on Friday evening, December 12th. Everything usually offered at Church festivals will be gotten up in the best style and prices will be very reasonable. Everybody is invited to attend.

The Con-Con. March.

Mrs. L. D. Holloway has composed a piece of music with the above title, which she has dedicated to the members of the Constitutional Convention and others, and is a very fine production. Mrs. Holloway played it for her guests on Thursday evening and it was very highly complimented. She is a first-class performer upon the piano and the piece was rendered in splendid style.

He Got There.

Prof. Went says that it rained early Tuesday morning and also on Friday night of last week, and that his claim, that if it rains on Monday it will rain two more days in that week, held good. Well as we didn't get up before day Tuesday morning nor stay up all night Friday night, we'll have to own up that we are knocked out, and he knows more about running the weather than we do.

City Elections.

The City Council has issued an order for an election to be held on Saturday next, for Councilmen, and also for an election to be held on the first Saturday in January, for School Trustees. Following is a list of the voting places and officers of election:

First Ward—Polls at the office of H. R. Williams' livery stable. Officers—Geo. B. Thomson and Wm. M. Culter, Judges; Chas. G. Payne, Sheriff; Sanford Herring, Clerk.

Second Ward—Polls in the basement of the Capital Hotel, on Ann street. Officers—J. B. Williams and Jas. W. Welch, Judges; J. W. Hawkins, Sheriff; Jerry Brislan, jr., Clerk.

Third Ward—Polls in Sheriff's office, at the Court-house. Officers—H. I. Todd and W. C. Williams, Judges; W. H. Julian, Sheriff; C. M. Walcutt, Clerk.

Mr. John R. Shaw Dead.

Mr. John R. Shaw, familiarly known as "Mack" Shaw, died Wednesday morning at the residence of his son, Mr. James R. Shaw, at Jet's Station, in this county. Mr. Shaw was an upright, honest citizen, whose sunny, genial nature made friends of all he met. He was 64 years old and had been a sufferer for many months with dropsy, which finally attacked his heart and produced death. For many years he was a resident of Woodford county, near Millville, but for about thirty years was connected with the Kentucky Penitentiary as superintendent of the blacksmithing department. About a year ago he gave up his position and together with Mr. Coley Whitehead opened a flour and feed store on Ann street, in which business he continued until his death.

He leaves a wife and seven children, all grown, to mourn his loss, who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends, both in this city and county. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon from the residence of his son at Jet's Station, the services being conducted by Rev. George Darsie, of the Christian Church.

Leg Broken.

Mr. Spencer C. Cryer, the contractor, was standing upon the joists of the portico at the new residence of Mr. P. S. Rule, Tuesday afternoon, giving directions to his hands about the work, when his foot slipped down between the joists, he lost his balance and fell over backwards to the ground, about two feet below. In the fall his right leg was caught between two of the joists, and the wrench produced a compound fracture of the bone between the knee and ankle. He was taken to his home on the corner of Campbell and Logan streets, where Dr. E. E. Hume reduced the fracture and he is resting as easy as possible, but will hardly be out again this winter. Mr. Cryer has been a sufferer for some time with rheumatism in the same limb, and this trouble probably caused him to lose his footing upon the joists and fall over.

Won the Honors.

At the oratorical contest between the literary societies of Centre College at Danville, on Friday of last week, the first honor was awarded to Mr. Martin D. Hardin, of this city, son of Gen. P. W. Hardin. Mr. Hardin will very likely be chosen to represent Centre College in the inter-collegiate oratorical contest, which will be held in Lexington next spring.

Misinformation.

We were misinformed in regard to the shooting of a negro convict on the farm of Mr. E. W. Ayres last week. Mr. Joe Cromey, Mr. Ayres' trainer, had some trouble with the negro and shot at him but missed his aim.

Capt. Holloway's Lunch.

The splendid entertainments heretofore given by Capt. L. D. Holloway and wife were completely overshadowed by the elegant supper which they gave to the members of the Constitutional Convention and their friends generally, on Thursday evening. A large number of our people were in attendance, who pronounce it unsurpassed by anything of the kind ever given in this city. The Con. Con. March was played by Mrs. Holloway and Miss Jennie McDonald, and was received with great applause. Everyone enjoyed themselves and the Captain was immensely delighted to have so many of his friends with him.

A Pleasant Affair.

The social dance given by Miss Rosa Caplinger, who lives several miles below this city, on the Lewis Ferry pike, on last Friday night, November 20, 1890, was a grand success in every sense of the word, and every one enjoyed themselves very much. The occasion was one long to be remembered.

They all failed. But one bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine helped her wonderfully." This should be used in all nervous disturbances, fits, rheumatism, etc. Ask at J. W. Lizzie Evans.

FOGG'S FERRY.

The Atlanta Constitution, of November 13th, has the following complimentary notice of a performance of "Fogg's Ferry" the comedy in which bright and winsome Lizzie Evans will appear at the Opera House next Wednesday night: "Lizzie Evans certainly deserved the audience, which was so justly flattering in size and favor, at her rendition of "Fogg's Ferry" last evening. The little star is a sprightly vision as she animates the stage with her pranks and sparkling humor. She is all that one may desire to see in the soubrette—nimble and graceful in the "light fantastic," well equipped as a vocalist, substantially magnetic in both farcical and pathetic personations. All the requirements of the role of the impulsive, naive and chery "Chip," the ferryman's daughter, were fulfilled with charm. Of the company the foremost figure was Mr. Harry Mills, a clever dancer and songster, as well as an accomplished comedian. Miss Evans and Mr. Mills rendered several duet songs and dances, all of which were highly appreciated and encored. Miss Evans sings exceedingly well, considering her little range of voice. Miss Clifton was the most pugilistic of matrons in the role of the ferryman's wife, and she extracted a rare bit of humor from the garb of Mrs. Fogg. The Messrs. Brooks, Verney, Everton and Spencer did justice to their respective parts, and shared the favor of the house. "Fogg's Ferry" is teeming with lively episodes and well-defined incidents, which appeal to every mind. The action of the plot is brisk and highly entertaining, and the audience seemed to enjoy the general performance immensely.

The Buccaneers of Old
Flameth the skull and cross bones, their ensigns, darts at the masthead. You modern pirate, not on the high seas, but upon the high reputation of standard remedies, skulls under various disguises. His bold and daring traffic has never to any degree affected Hostess's Stomach Bitters, although that standard invigorant and corrective has long been the shining mark at which his shafts have been directed. Cheap lozenges, composed of fiery unrefined stimulants, with an infusion, or extract, possibly of some tonic bark, are still sometimes recommended as identical with, or similar to, or possessing virtues kindred to those of the family medicine. They are pernicious, perishing speedily, while the great subduer and preventive of disease, Hostess's Stomach Bitters, cures dyspepsia, nervousness, kidney troubles, constipation, rheumatic ailments, not only on this, but on many continents.

ROUNDABOUT-Supplement.

VOL. XIV. NUMBER 12

FRANKFORT, KY., NOV. 29, 1890.

The City Election.

Editor Roundabout:

But for the plans of those who desire that the back track shall be taken and the city business and city schools be turned over to the avarice of petty politicians to parcel out for party service, there would have been no special contest in the city election. In fact, any member of the best class of citizens, men of experience, judgment and financial ability would have readily consented to serve the people, and it would only have been an agreeable rivalry of choice among any number of excellent candidates.

But there are those who favor the doctrine that city officers and the city schools shall be considered and classed as spoils to be divided out as the rewards for petty party service, and that the police force shall be subject to the same demoralizing influences.

So far has this bad policy extended that politicians outside the city and members of the Constitutional Convention have been invoked and solicited to embroil themselves in our city affairs, to take part in our local contest, in aid of this effort to take the back track and reduce city officers, city schools and the city police to the level of scheming politics. The people of Frankfort have a more vital interest in the Constitutional Convention than the success of any ticket, and this interest is as certain to be damaged and endangered by the policy being pursued by the disingenuous authors of the bogus partisan movement as night follows day. It is an evidence of weakness and a bad cause when outside parties, totally unacquainted with our city affairs, are brought here to become embroiled in city contests.

Are the people of Frankfort ready to take the back track? Are they ready to undo the work built up by the aid of such men as the late Col. Jno. Mason Brown, Dr. Mills, Thos. E. Ford and others, a splendid Common School system, blessing hundreds of children with the advantages of education under experienced teachers? Do they want this work blasted with the breath of political demagoguery? Do they want city business put under the same ban? Do they want the police to become politicians and hold office subject to the demands of party service?

These are the serious questions to be decided at the December election. The authors of the so-called Democratic ticket, claimed to be selected without authority, favor the back track and the demoralizing policy we have indicated, and the Citizens' Ticket favors holding on to the school system as it is, and no politics but the best men for guardians of city business.

There ought not to be any doubt as to which ticket should be supported by the independent citizen? Politics has no legitimate connection with city business, the city schools or the city police, it only gets there by being thrust in to blast and destroy. Keep it out by defeating the scheme to introduce it.
